Dedicated to assisting child victims of sexual abuse, physical abuse, sex trafficking, and witnesses to violent crime.

Supporting abused keiki

In 2021, Friends provided direct assistance to 773 children on O'ahu.

The Children's Justice Center is a safe place for keiki to be interviewed about allegations of abuse. The Friends of the CJC of O'ahu assists the Center and the professionals, while also helping child victims and their families in their healing from the trauma. We provide emotional and financial support through our Hoʻōla Nā Manaʻo (Hope & Healing) program.

April is National Child Abuse Prevention and Awareness Month

In April of 2021, Friends hosted a press conference to release child abuse statistics from across the state of Hawaii for 2020. Compared to 2019, the numbers were down, but this did not indicate less abuse occurring. Due to COVID-19 restrictions and stay-at-home orders isolating children, abuse was likely not being reported.

To help raise awareness of the extent of child abuse in Hawaii and how the pandemic lockdown affected these children, professionals and partners of the Children's Justice Center of O'ahu discussed these statistics, what they meant, and how the community could be part of the solution. Agencies present at the press conference included partners from Friends, Children's Justice Centers, Honolulu Police Department Sex Crimes Detail, the Honolulu Prosecutor's Office, and the Sex Abuse Treatment Center.

Friends will hold a similar press conference on April 24, 2022 to highlight the prevalence of child abuse in Hawaii.

Keeping Staff and Clients Safe Year Round

Throughout the year Friends assists the Children's Justice Center with day-to-day needs. Friends provides equipment, furnishings, and supplies used by the Center to create and maintain a facility where children feel safe as they start their journey towards healing.

"I appreciated the kind, friendly, and understanding atmosphere and feeling. We were put at ease due to the homelike setting and caring staff. Thank you for the services offered during COVID as it was also clean and safe."
